The Eyes of the Nation are on Virginia

HARRY F. BYRD

For the first time since Reconstruction Days, sinister outside influences are attempting to invade Virginia to bring about the defeat of a United States Senator who refused to bow to the dictates of John L. Lewis, James Caesar Petrillo and Philip Murray. It was at Atlantic City on May 10, 1946, that Thomas Burns of Akron, Ohio, Assistant Director of the CIO-Political Action Committee, proclaimed that his group would mobilize to defeat Senator Byrd, placing him number one on the "purge" list.

Why?

(1) Because Senator Byrd opposes special privileges for union leaders just as when Governor he opposed special privileges for corporations.

(2) Because Senator Byrd introduced legislation requiring labor unions to file reports of their receipts and disbursements.

(3) Because Senator Byrd forcefully brought to the attention of the country that a few labor leaders have become so powerful that one man can shut down all the coal mines another can discontinue all train service, another can close all the steel mills, while a fourth can tell 130,000,000 people what they can and cannot listen to on the radio.

(4) Because Senator Byrd believes that it is not in the interests of the nation that campaign expenditures of the Political Action Committee be exempt from the Corrupt Practices Act

(5) Because Senator Byrd believes that ruthless, dictatorial tactics of unscrupulous labor leaders are doing much to injure the interests of the working man

(6) Because Senator Byrd has fought with determination all efforts of these ruthless leaders to put their own selfish interests above the welfare of 130,000,000 Americans

Tuesday, August 6, 1946, is an important day in U. S. history. Senator Byrd's defeat would signal a new wave of radicalism which might sweep away the liberties now enjoyed by this democratic nation

Vote Tuesday.

Strike a blow against sinister outside interference in the political affairs of Virginia. Vote for the re-election of United States Senator Harry F. Byrd on Tuesday, August 6th.

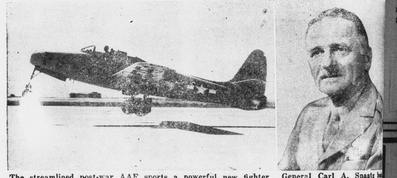
ARMY AIR FORCES 39 YEARS OLD

"Air Power is Peace Power," theme of Air Force Day celebration

Orville Wright, bicycle maker turned airman, is the father of powered American aviation.

The "Wright Flyer" testing its wings at Fort Myer, Virginia in 1908. It was a modest forerunner of the powerful planes built by Curtiss-Wright Corp. during World War II.

The B-29 "Superfortress" delivered the final knockout blow to Japan. Designed by the Boeing Aircraft Company, the B-29s ushered in the atomic age at Hiroshima, Nagasaki and Bikini. The B-50, even more powerful and of longer range, is now in production for the Army Air Force.



The streamlined post-war AAF sports a powerful new fighter. Built by the Republic Aviation Corp., the jet-propelled P-84 approaches a speed of 600 miles an hour, has a range of 1000 miles, and a service ceiling of more than 40,000 feet.

General Carl A. Spaatz, the Army Air Forces, on the line of defense, dedicated the maintenance of world p

IN PRESENTING this citation, Rear Admiral J. T. Mathews, (CEC) USN, Superintending Civil Engineer, Area IV, said in part:

"Through the Utilities War-time Aid Program, your company rendered invaluable service to the Naval shore establishments and to those defense plants engaged in building ships and planes and numerous other items required by the Navy to wage successful warfare. This service was outstanding in efficiency and continuity, resulting in great savings of manpower and materials, and was a real contribution towards victory."

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like spasm and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

COLORED NEWS

Clarence Statham, of Baltimore, Md., departed this life on Sunday, July 14. The funeral service was held last Thursday, July 18, at the Canaan Baptist Church. Rev. C. A. Marshall, pastor, conducted the funeral service. The choir rendered special music, under the direction of Miss B. M. Hubbard, of Roanoke, Va. Brother Clarence was born in Virginia, but he spent most of his time in Maryland. He was loved by all everywhere he went. We have lost a faithful friend and we feel none can restore his place. Our love for him was great; but God's love was still greater. —The family.

Mrs. Sophia Powell, of Brooklyn was among those present at the funeral of her nephew, Clarence Statham.

Miss Sarah Ferguson, of Brooklyn, is spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ferguson.

Uncle Sam Says

United States Savings Bonds are patriotic bonds because your country is still fighting enemy forces which can do to you what the Nazis and Japs were unable to accomplish. This enemy is inflation—run-away prices which can wreck you and your country. Every bond you buy today still serves your country because your continued investment in bonds keeps your dollars in a safe place and out of competition for the still scarce consumer goods.
